GOLLNER DESCRIBES PHASES OF THE WAR

FORMER JANESVILLE MAN SENDS INFORMATION, PICTURES, ETC., FROM GER-

MANY.

ABOUT THE LUSITANIA

Refrains From Writing of War Itself. —Prices on Staple Articles Are Reduced.

Interesting information, including picture postcards of French prisoners in Germany, of Herzog Albrecht von Wurttemberg, German commander in Belgium, envelopes as used by the soldiers in the field, ordinary bread

tickets and guests' bread tickets given to each traveler at the hotel, newspaper announcement of the death of the Y. M. C. A. general secretary at Ludwigshafen, tickets pasted on packages sent to the soldiers in the field, and a personal letter and photograph has been received in this city.

Friends from John Gollner, who is at the present time in Stuttgart, Germany, and who has sent numerous communications to friends in this city on the affairs in that country

during the present crisis.

The information is first hand, and is most interesting. Two photos on postcards of French prisoners are taken in group and represent the dress of the French soldier and the appearances of the German soldiers. Gollner states that these prisoners are taken from Stuttgart on excursion trips

Sunday to the woods, and that many of them are starving for want of viands.

The postcard in colors of Herzog

Albrecht von Wurttemberg represents the man who it is said has caused much of the trouble, who is the commander at Ypres, and who has six children at Stuttgart. Mr.

Gollner says, "Can you believe the lies that we order Belgian children to be killed?"

The sample Mr. Gollner sends of a guest bread ticket, given to each traveler at the hotels, is arranged in good for but one day. It is given to the guest at the breakfast table and is good anywhere in the entire city or 250 gram, and is divided into twenty-five gram tickets perforated onto the regular ticket, so that one may be torn off easily. On the ticket that was sent here four of the 25

gram tickets were used and have been torn off. The ticket is dated April 12th, 1915, and was issued at the Hotel Coburg, in Berlin, on the morning of that day. Mr. Gollner explains that he used the one hundred grams, or four 25 gram tickets, for his breakfast.

An envelope that is used by the soldiers in the field for the direct communication of letters to their friends or relatives was included in the letter sent by Gollner. No postage is required on these envelopes by the soldiers.

The notice regarding the death of the general secretary of the Y. M. C.

A. at Ludwigshafen proved to be of special interest to Gollner, as he states below the article, that the peaceful Janesville always has some fight on its hands. Then he asks:

"How about the Y. M. C. A.?" The death of the secretary ends the life of a German who has won the iron cross, first and second class medals

for great bravery. The secretary died on the battlefield for his country.

A form of the tickets which are past on all packages that are sent to the soldiers in the field was included in the letter sent by Gollner.

On the ticket, which is printed,

"Wenn unbestellbar zur Verteilung an die Kameraden." It means that the package be given a chum. If the person package is addressed to is dead.

The writer states that many of his friends in this country have offered to send him food in small packages, for which he thanked them. He says, "I surely miss the breakfast rolls and would like to eat more bread, but the way it is, I eat more meat, fruit, potatoes, etc." Then he said, "As shown by the above picture,

I could stand it for many more years."

Above these words on the same sheet of paper appears a photograph of Gollner who is plump and appears to be in excellent health.

The letter that accompanied the above information is as follows:

Stuttgart, May 17, 1915.

I have written you several letters and cards from foreign countries

where I traveled and hope you received them all.

Up to Easter my business went good and kept me busy all the time, but since then it's slackening and chances for improvement, as long as this terrible war will last.

Factories manufacturing war goods,

like guns, ammunition, autos, motors,

etc., etc. are and will be kept busy day and night for a long time ever after the war. It may come better with my textile factory customers,

but not very soon, as clothes for many millions of uniforms and other army needs are finished. Germany is prepared, even if the war should last for several more years. In spite of the hot weather, hundreds of factories are making heavy coats, lined with fur. System and organization, without parallel in the world!

About the war itself I don't want to write any more. My letters appeared in many papers, and surely helped to spread the truth, but sometimes "England—admirers—at any price,"

like the Gazette don't want to be convinced and always suspect that

Mr. German Censor is behind us all the time.

Believe me, I can write anything except about the movements of troops.

No matter what the world lies about these "barbarians," they don't have to hide anything.

I have seen much, have seen prison camps, have spoken with war prisoners and could not discover a just complaint. The English prisoners are "kicking" because they are housed with Hindus, Ghoras and ship? Other Englishmen, I don't wonder, complain about the food.

They are used to eating steak for breakfast. Germans have to be satisfied with 200 gram bread a day and charitable England could carry out its plans, Germans would have been starved.

Prices for flour and bread have been reduced since May first. Killing spare grain food—was stopped. Plenty of new vegetables and fine prospects for 1915 crop.

"Spargel mit pfannkuchen" was always a costly delicacy in the spring and only the ones with a filled pocketbook could eat it. How now, now?

1915? Canning is prohibited and everybody can afford to eat it now

every day.

It is very regrettable that Italy

will also join enemies of Germany.

Austria is offering them more and aid other concessions than—in my opinion—they will get when fighting.

I presume England and as much more in Africa and Asia! But don't think whatever Austria promised it has in its hands, while England or France are promising things they cannot deliver.

Just a few more words. About the Lusitania, I surely am no barbarian and whoever knows me well enough, will have to admit that I live up to the true Masonic principles.

Practicing brotherly love.

It was the German Emperor I would torpedo everyone of his enemies battleships, no matter how many hundreds of thousands of people might die from them. If an American wants to travel on an English battle-cruiser, which carries thousands of tons of ammunition too, he can do it

at his own risk.

Why? Mr. Bryan could win the war for England easily with the help of a few dozen American citizens. Just let all Americans on every battlefield

GIBBONS IN DESIRE TO MEET M'FARLAND

St. Paul "Wizard" Has An Ambition To Meet Packer MacFarland and Exchange Wallops.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 10.—If Packer MacFarland, the Chicago fighting marvel, and St. Paul "Wizard" Gibbons, the one-barring desire of Gibbons, were to exchange wallops, it would be a fight which also holds Mike Gibbons, St. Paul citizen.

Gibbons will concede a lot to entice Packer into a match. In the first place he will agree to make 145 pounds for the Chicagoan. The St. Paul wonder admits that making 145 pounds is no easy feat for him, but he is willing to run a risk of getting down too fine just to get a crack at MacFarland.

Just why Gibbons is so anxious to clash with MacFarland is hard to tell. Of course there would be a nice wad of coin in such a match for both fighters. But a talk with Gibbons will convince one that there is something more than a money consideration behind his anxiety to slam the Chicagoan.

It is possible that Mike is keen to demonstrate that he is the cleverest fighter in the world. He has been called so a great many times. And then he has heard that he is the "cover" next to MacFarland. Mike may want to remove that "next to MacFarland" thing.

Stories alone are circulating about Gibbons, the true son of the Emerald Isle, who is battling for title honors in the heavyweight division under the guidance of Billy Gibson, but his manager told the best one a few days ago when he related how Coffey broke into the fight game. It happened three years ago.

Coffey was matched with a brawler by the name of Al Benedict. At this time Coffey didn't know a boxing move from a toy balloon. He was as green as his national color. He was taken to a gymnasium and coached in the gentle art of self defense.

On the night of the fight he was the most bewildered man in the world when he was led into the ring. He had never even seen a prize fight. He didn't know anything about rules, was to slant the other person who wore big mitts.

In the first round Coffey stopped a wallop with his chin. The floor stopped him, he saw the referee standing over him, counting "one, two, three." Coffey got up at the count of eight. Not that the count made any difference to him. He didn't know that the count of "ten" would end the fight. He just thought it was up to him to get up.

He was finished the round. The second was barely started when the fighters clinched. The referee rushed in to break them. In the scramble all three edict got up. The referee, having been on the bottom didn't.

Coffey reached out with one hand and held Benedict at arm's length. What the other hand he began toiling "Ivan, tooh, tray"—he was going, when the roars of the crowd and the yelling of his seconds stopped him. To his manager after the fight, which he had just wanted to be a referee. The latter had counted for him when he was down.

CUBS LOSE ELEVEN INNING DUEL TO PHILLIES 4 TO 3

Chicago, June 10.—Battling for the lead of the National, the Cubs and Phillies fought a whirlwind battle yesterday, at the end of which the Cubs took the short end of a 4 to 3 score. After looking like amateurs in the eighth and ninth innings and attacked this illustrious slabanman so viciously that they evened up the count of three runs which the Philadelphia club had compiled with much energy against Cheney.

Alexander pitched a sensational game for seven innings, six sessions were without a hit or run for the Cubs. Cheney pitched masterly ball, but an error scored the two runs in the third.

Cicotte Pitching Some.

New York, June 10.—The climbing Sox ran rampant with the New York Yankees yesterday, when Cicotte held the New York team to two hits while his mate buried the slipping American league hopes by thirteen runs. Final count being 13 to 0. The Rowland swatsmen gathered eighteen hits and these with four errors brought forth the crushing defeat. Cicotte, the knuckle ball expert, pitched so good that only one Yankee runner reached second base and four managed to get to first, two on passes. Lena Blackburne started at third, where he robbed several hits off the Yankee batters. Fournier played a finished game at first, while Hale and Cettrell pitched for the Yankees and suffered the misery of a cloutfest.

SIGN "PUSH" MILLER FOR THE CARDINALS

Speedy Infielder Will appear In Line-Up of Cardinals In Game Sunday Against Madison Team.

George Miller, formerly a Janesville Cub and Cardinal player, will be in the Janesville Cardinal line-up the coming Sunday, when the Cardinals cross bats with the F. B. C. team of Madison. A new outfielder is also to be seen at one of the infield positions and all of the Janesville fans know of the speed of his playing, his Ty Cobb sticking and base running ability. A new outfielder is also to be obtained, and there is one sure bet that Erving, the Milwaukee "player," will not grace one of the Card's suits Sunday.

The Madison team played here last year and the Cardinals won by a lone run after a fourteen inning duel, in which Butters and Crandall did some high class pitching. Butters is billed to pitch Sunday, and will be hit by form to checkmate the Madison sluggers, who will invade these parts with an aggregation of players that will put the Cardinals to their hardest test so far this year. The new Cardinal infield will be made up of Nehr, who is holding down the first sacker's job in a most satisfactory manner. Nehr has not yet struck his batting stride, for in former years he was the hardest and most consistent hitter on the nine, being a wizard at poling out doubles in the time of need. Cornell adds much strength and confidence to the nine, being a four hundred hitter and an experienced man to steady the team. Croak is the find of the season, steady, and plugs the space at short like a city block.

Miller may play at third in case Cornell is at second.

EDDIE O'DONNELL WINS RACE AT GALESBURG

Galesburg, Ill., June 10.—Ten thousand spectators saw Eddie O'Donnell in a Duesenberg car win the 100 mile automobile race over the Galesburg track yesterday. Tom Alley, a teammate of O'Donnell, was second, and Chandler finished third. The winner's time was 1:36. The winner is a Milwaukee driver.

ELECT AL SCHALLER VICE-PRESIDENT OF STATE GOLF BOARD

Janesville Man Elected to Succeed A. A. Guilbert of Racine—Five Days of Play at Tournament.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Milwaukee, Wis., June 10.—There will be five days of play this year for the state golf championship. This decision and play for the annual directors' prizes of the state golf association were among the features of the annual schedule meeting at the Blue Mound Country club of the directors of the Wisconsin State Golf association.

President Walter P. Cavanaugh of Kenosha, was forced to resign by press of business which keeps him out of the state much of the time, and Vice President A. A. Guilbert of Racine was advanced to fill the vacancy. Al Schaller of Janesville was elected vice president.

Special events for the tournament week were left to a special committee consisting of Secretary-Treasurer Guy F. Gregg of the Blue Mound club; Louis Allis of Milwaukee, and C. C. Allen of Kenosha.

Henry F. Tyrell of Milwaukee, a member of the Racine Golf club, was named assistant secretary of the state association, to act as master of events, and also as chairman of the handicaps committee, with James R. Anderson of Kenosha and Warren R. Bullock of Blue Mound as his assistants.

Wednesday forenoon, the sixty-four best cards of Tuesday will be sent out for a second eighteen-hole round, which will constitute the second half of the thirty-six hole qualifying round for the champion and two low scorers. The championship will be of thirty-two contestants and the other flights of sixteen players each. The Tuesday scored rated from 65 to 80 inclusive, will form a fourth flight.

Wednesday afternoon it will thus be possible to start out the championship field for the first round of elimination match play. There will be some special events on Wednesday for those not involved in this and the flight competitions. This is the field for the championship to sixteen by Wednesday night, and Thursday morning there will be another eighteen-hole match round, the eight survivors playing again in the afternoon. This carries the semi-finalists to an all-day thirty-six hole semi-final contest Friday, with the finals on Saturday, also thirty-six holes.

MORRIS MILLER

Danny Murphy, the old star of the Athletics, will be rewarded for his faithfulness to the team by being named club's roster until his contract has expired. The Brookfields recently released some of their waning stars to clubs in the Colonial league. Murphy is about through as a big leaguer, and it occasioned surprise that he, too, wasn't let out. But the Brookfield manager explains it thusly: "Recently some of the players named against Manager Lee Magee. They wanted Murphy to be their leader, promising him their support for the managerial job in case Magee join. He played with them, Magee. And now he gets his reward by remaining with the Brookfields."

Before Jim Coffey can hope to get a whack at Jess Willard his manager must put up $25,000 as a cash guarantee for Willard's end. Billy Gibbons widely declared that it was going to be put up. "Where the money are asking? That's a lot of money, Billy, but we suppose you'll dig it up somewhere."

It already is a foregone conclusion that the White Sox will finish with a big balance on the healthy side of the ledger this season. The Sox have broken all records drawing crowds this spring.

Guelph in the Canadian league lost a thirteen-inning game the other day because of a bad catch of a foul ball by its third baseman, Isaac. An Ottawa runner was on third and scored after the catch, Isaac losing his balance and being unable to return the ball to the plate.

Poor Boy Neyland. He must have felt pretty badly over his defeat by Walsh and the other Fordham college players on his try for twenty straight victories. He was due to crack, as Marquard did, when he had reached nineteen straight. Somehow or other, however, he always seems on slugging bent every time a record is in the making. Walter Johnson found that out when he was after a record of no hits in so many Innings. Just when the great Swede had the record tied, some one walked up to the plate and started a furious batting rally that produced hits to the tune of a nicker a dozen. Breckinridge's records isn't a daily occurrence in baseball. Neyland was over two years in compiling his list of wins. Two years and over with-out a defeat—then comes Walsh, the Fordham boy, who trimmed him once before. Hard luck, Bob!

One of the most remarkable come-backs in baseball is Harry Coveleskie, the left-handed pitcher of the Detroit club. Coveleskie was considered out of major league baseball when, five or six years ago, he was sent to the Southern league. For a time his work there was only mediocre and those who were responsible for his going there felt satisfied that no mistake had been made. But Coveleskie continued to improve and finally became a star in that company, and Detroit drafted him. He now is that team's best pitcher and is very likely to make a better record this year than he did last season.

WEATHER FORECAST.

THE BRYAN EPISODE.

"Consensus of press opinion the country through is that William Jennings Bryan's resignation of the portfolio of state, just at this time, has not had the effect that the Nebraska statesman expected it to. His action has really united the people of this country to stand behind the President and endorse his action as regards the German situation.

No one wants war. No one expects war with Germany. But the theory of peace at any price is now eliminated from our foreign relations with Germany or any other country that infringes upon the rights of the United States upon the high seas or the lines of commerce and protection of American citizens the world over.

The Milwaukee Journal sums up the resignation by saying:

"Mr. Bryan's resignation is due to the assumption of a responsibility he did not possess and the refusal of a great service he might have rendered his country. Belief will be very strong that this act is a breach of loyalty to the nation."

The Evening Wisconsin takes about the same attitude, but emphasizes the fact that "this country does not want war with Germany. As a neutral nation it demands respect for its rights on the part of belligerent nations, Germany included. The note of protest which President Wilson wrote to Germany after the destruction of the Lusitania, to which the late German note is really that does not meet the essential points at issue, carried the signature of William Jennings Bryan as secretary of state. President Wilson's note in response to the German reply is described as standing firmly on the ground occupied by the former note. Why did Mr. Bryan sign one and refuse to sign the other? This is not yet clear. In his letter of resignation to the president, he says: 'You have prepared for transmission to the German government a note in which I cannot join without violating what I deem to be an obligation to my country.'"

The Milwaukee News believes that his resignation may give a mistaken idea to Germany as to the attitude of the people of the United States, at the present time is standing firmly behind the president when it says:

"What the effect of the resignation of Secretary Bryan will have upon the negotiations now pending is the very crux of the incident. In itself it is held by some it may lead to misinterpretation by Germany. However regrettable its appearance at just this time may be, it would seem the fact of its occurrence is sufficient to prevent serious misinterpretation of the German position as a result of the first note to Germany. What the second note does is not publicly known. If it does not go beyond the language of the former one there can be no aggravation of the situation involving belligerency of attitude or long continued strained relations between the two countries."

Even the Madison Journal deplors the situation when it says:

"Mr. Bryan is a high-minded man; he is an able man; he has made many mistakes; but he has made no mistake comparable with his refusal to support the president of the United States and his entire cabinet when they are merely standing the ground to which Mr. Bryan himself subscribed but a few days past."

The Milwaukee Sentinel believes the tales about Bryan not being a diplomat evident, for he says:

"Undiplomatic to the last! Or is the unhappy paragraph which stands out ominously above all the rest in Mr. Bryan's letter of resignation deliberate, political, the Partisan shot of a man who has felt some slights, has personal ambitions for the coming year, and is not incapable of malice?"

It has even been suggested that the resignation of Mr. Bryan was due perhaps to the thought that all his efforts of the past two years went for naught and his hopes of the Nobel peace prize of $40,000 went glimmering if he signed his name as secretary of state to the second Wilson note. This may be true for it is certain that the great bulk of the time spent by the former secretary of state in his office at Washington, away from his chautauqua lectures, has been toward securing signatures to peace treaties between the United States and other nations.

The tale, as it is told in Washington, that he even had old swords, obtained from the army department, converted into ploughshares as a memento to be presented to the ambassadors and ministers of the nations signing the treaties.

In France the Midi views the situation as follows, seeing only a warning to Germany. The Midi referred to the retiring secretary as a "pacifist at any price," and says that having been this all his life his resignation should be regarded as a striking warning to Germany.

"President Wilson," this paper continues, "has developed a degree of firmness of which he was not believed capable. Happen what may, the situation is becoming clear. Let us hope that Berlin will appreciate its great significance."

Information, another influential paper, says: "President Wilson in maintaining his ideals, has not let the realities escape him. The American character is capable of firmness and resolution, and its determination will not be without consequence."

Throughout Germany the official ukase was sent forth that there should be no comment upon it in the press until further notice. The German government desires to receive and digest the Wilson note evidently before making or permitting comment. It may have the effect of inclining the imperial government to the idea that the resignation of the secretary of state under such dramatic circumstances has created an anti-Wilson sentiment in the United States, and if this is the belief the answer may not be any more satisfactory than was the previous note.

The press of England, however, look at the resignation as a warning to Germany that the United States is not to be trifled with. They express surprise at Bryan's stepping down and out at this time, but they express belief the people of the United States will support the president in his present stand.

Throughout this waiting period for the answer of Germany and the full knowledge of the contents of the Wilson note that caused this diplomatic break between Bryan and his superior, or the moulting of public opinion for or against the administration will continue, but when the time comes, if the sentiment expressed through the nation can be believed, they will firmly endorse the president and stand behind him shoulder to shoulder.

The railroads are seeking to obtain the passage of a two and a half cent fare bill through the legislature. They base their claims that the two cent passenger rate is not sufficient to bring them enough revenue to pay for the improvements needed to make the service first-class. There is something to it, but it is not to be expected that the present legislature will do anything for their relief.

It has been suggested that if President Wilson wanted to have a new secretary of state, made to order and thoroughly versed in foreign affairs and international law, he might name his friend and rival for presidential nomination, Champ Clark, to fill Bryan's chair. Champ and his "houn' dawg" would certainly be an attraction worth visiting in the state department.

Governor Philipp took considerable time and pains in preparing his message to the legislature and its first effect was the ordering to engrossment of the measure which it dealt with, by the assembly. If the senate pays the same heed to it the taxpayers of the state will be more than pleased.

MINISTRY OF EDUCATION

ORDER THE CONTINUATION OF GERMAN SCHOOL WORK

Berlin, June 10.—The Prussian Ministry of Education has issued an administrative order to the local school authorities, enjoining them to spare no effort to maintain the continuity of school work, notwithstanding the difficulties caused by the departure of large numbers of teachers for the front.

Apart from the ordinary features of instruction, the local authorities are directed to make sure that patriotic feeling among the boys and girls is carefully cultivated and encouraged.

"The boys," said the minister of education, "must be trained to regard themselves as the future soldiers of the Fatherland, while the girls must learn the necessity for self-sacrifice on the part of all wives and mothers. All of them should be influenced so that they will be eager to suffer any hardships on behalf of the Fatherland."

The local authorities are ordered to send reports of their efforts in this direction to the Ministry of Education.

VOICES OPPOSITION TO WELFARE BOARD

Dr. Harper Denounces Consolidation Bill Which Would Include State Health Department.

Madison, Wis., June 10.—Arguments for and against the administration's bill consolidating numerous departments in a public welfare board were presented before the joint finance committee yesterday afternoon. The measure is the state health department, state board of health, state dairy and food commission and department of weights and measures, and state treasury.

The only representations on behalf of the plan were made by Senator Whitman of the investigating committee, who stated that the bill embodied the changes considered advisable by that committee in the interest of economy and efficiency. He had no objection to the incorporation of an amendment submitted by Secretary Hazelwood of the civil service commission, transferring the status of present employees in the boards to be merged to the proposed board of public welfare.

Dr. Oscar Neupert of Stevens Point appeared against the bill. He presented resolutions against it adopted by the ninth district medical society, which would have received letters throughout the state. All other states, he added, have health boards administered as separate units. Dr. J. P. Dorpat of Madison and Dr. Dorpat of Milwaukee were other medical men appearing against the consolidation of the health board in the consolidation.

Dr. J. A. Harper, secretary of the state board of health, made the principal address against the consolidation.

"I believe that if a careful study of the work of some of these boards had been made," he said, "a bill of different type and character would be drawn in order to avoid duplication, and at the same time maintain the identity of the various fields of work with equal, if not greater efficiency, and that a public health organization, in name, independent in character, which provides for the state board of health and the industrial commission, and the dairy and food department, by doing any and all duplication of field work can be avoided. I earnestly desire to see the board of health stand, not only in spirit, but in name, and cannot without a protest permit Wisconsin to be the only state in the Union not having a public health organization properly labelled."

Dr. Harper said that a similar bill coming before the Minnesota legislature, including the board of health, was overwhelmingly defeated in the Minnesota legislature this year because the question of efficiency of such consolidation was strongly raised. He quoted from the experience of Illinois to the effect that a separate board was best.

SOME TIMELY HINTS TO CITY GARDENERS

Kitchen Garden Calendar as Prepared by University Agricultural Expert.

"It's great to be out, doors these bracing days. Sure nuff! And I'm glad I have a few square feet back of the house for a garden. Gardens make mind, make meals, and take off the office grouch. There's nothing like it."

These are the words of the man with a kitchen garden on the outskirts of the city, for whom and for the children with special city garden plots a few weekly suggestions from an experienced vegetable grower have been prepared for this paper. Here they are, in the form of brief hints and reminders. The authority for them was raised in the "vegetable garden belt" of Pennsylvania, J. R. Hepler of the College of Agriculture, Madison.

Asparagus—Keep cutting until July 1. Then stop and apply a fairly heavy manure mulch. This will induce a vigorous summer growth which will make summer root systems.

Cabbage—Late cabbage seed should be planted this week. Danish Ball Head and Succession are two good varieties. The early kinds should now be well along in the field.

Sweet Corn—Plant sweet corn now and it will mature in the middle of August, or by September 1. Plant in drills.

Endive and Swiss Chard—Late summer greens such as endive and chard are relished by almost everyone, and are easily raised. Sow now in drills in the garden or sow first in seed beds and later transplant six or eight inches apart in the row.

Tomatoes—It is not a sign of laziness to be planting tomatoes now. Nothing was gained by transplanting tomatoes this season early in May, as the cold did them no good. The tomatoes in the experiment station gardens at Madison did not grow to any extent after transplanting. Allow only two main leaders to grow. Keep all shoots out of that grow out at the axis of the leaves and stem. Tie the plants to stakes with twine or cotton cloth. Training them in this way will give earlier and better tomatoes.

Celery—Choose a self-blanching variety of celery and set it out now for the first August crop. The celery for the late crop need not be set out until July.

Vine crops—Unlike cucumbers, "I cannot eat this or that food, it does not agree with me." Our advice to all of them is to take a

SOLDIER PRIESTS OF FRANCE GET TRIBUTE FROM COUNTESS

[SPECIAL TO THIS GAZETTE.]

Madison, June 10.—A tribute to the soldier-priests of France is paid in a pamphlet just issued by the Countess de Courson.

The number of priests in the French army exceeds 800, drawn from many different orders, Carthusians, Jesuits, Dominicans, Salesians, Norbertines and Benedictines. Men of high office in the church are frequently privates in the army, and often their inferiors in the priesthood are their superiors under military discipline. The younger men serve in the first line, the older men are employed as chaplains and hospital orderlies. The actual military chaplains are always men over forty.

Generally an Easy Matter. Even if we have had no love for the distant deceased relative we can often put up a strenuous fight to get a bit of his property.

CHAUTAUQUA PLANS READY FOR SEASON

COMMITTEE DECIDES ON NEW PLAN TO SELL SEASON
TICKETS.

TO BE HELD JULY 10-15

To Hold Program at Same Place as Last Year on North Washington Street.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the directors for the Janesville chautauqua, held at the office of Mr. S. Nolan yesterday morning, plans were completed and arrangements made for the annual chautauqua, to be held in Janesville between July 10 and 15. It was decided that the program would be given at the same place as last year on North Washington street.

The meeting was held in conference with C. E. Stapleton, advertising manager for the Lincoln Chautauqua and a new plan for getting the interest of the different churches aroused to selling season tickets was made. It was decided to have a general gathering at the Grand Hotel next Tuesday, where each director is to invite two guests, to dinner and the idea will be discussed and a definite plan settled upon. This will push enthusiasm to its highest pitch.

The people, who have pledged to take season tickets for the 1915 program are to receive notice to call at the First National Bank and get them.

The mornings from eight to twelve will be given over to the Junior Chautauqua, afternoons, from two to three, to the senior citizens, and the balance of the afternoon to girls and stories. In the evenings the first and second parts of the tent program will be given.

The formal opening will take place on the afternoon of the tenth and will be followed by a musical entertainment by the Conservatory Players. In the evening Booth Lowery will give a lecture. The second day of the jubilee will render the music and Col. G. J. Gendhart will give the lecture, "The Arden Drama" players will entertain on the third day and Pitt Parker will give crayon and cartoon talks. The Hon. William E. Mason will be the speaker for the fourth day, the music being furnished by Bland's Chautauqua band. There will also be readings given by Jean Macdonald, Harold Morton Kramer and Reno D. Welbourn will deliver the lectures on the fifth day. There will also be an interesting entertainment by the Beverlys. The sixth day will wind up the programs with music furnished by the Royal Welsh Ladies' choir and lectures by Hon. J. K. Coddling.

Those present at the meeting yesterday included the entire directors' executive committee, of which T. E. Nolan is president, Rev. Geo. E. Parsons, secretary, C. H. Weirick, treasurer, H. H. Bliss, chairman of the advertising committee, and E. T. Fish, superintendent of the grounds.

GET POWER The Supply Comes From Food.

If we get power from food, why not strive to get all the power we can. That is only possible by selecting food that exactly fits the requirements of the body.

"Not knowing how to select the right food to fit my needs, I suffered grievously for a long time from a little trouble," writes a lady from a Western town.

"It seemed as if I would never be able to find out the sort of food that was best for me. Hardly anything that I could eat would stay on my stomach. Every attempt gave me heart-burn and filled my stomach with gas. I got thinner and thinner until I literally became a living skeleton and in time was compelled to keep to my bed."

"A few months ago I was persuaded to try Grape-Nuts food, and it had such good effect from the very beginning that I kept up its use. I was surprised at the ease with which I digested it. It proved to be just what I needed."

"All my unpleasant symptoms, the heart-burn, the inflated feeling which gave me so much pain, disappeared. My weight gradually increased from 93 to 116 lbs., my figure rounded out, my strength came back, and I am now able to do my housework and enjoy it. Grape-Nuts did it."

"A ten days trial will show anyone some facts about food."

WAR TAX ON TOBACCO IS DUE ON JULY 1ST

Dealers Must Post Paid Stamp Tax in Conspicuous Place—Fifty Per Cent. Fine Through Failure.

The month of June is an important month to all dealers in tobacco. The emergency tax act adds very largely to those who may become liable to the penalties prescribed in Sec. 3239 of the general revenue act. By that section all persons liable to special tax of any kind are required to post, and keep posted in a conspicuous place in their establishments, stamps or stamps showing they had paid the special tax.

During this month all tobacco dealers made liable to the special or emergency tax must make their application to the revenue collectors for stamps to cover their business until December 31, 1915. The amount of the tax is levied on the business done since July 1, 1914, but the tax is to be paid only on six months' business.

On July 1, all persons liable to special tax, and who are now in the business must have the stamps showing payment of the tax or be liable under section 3239 to a penalty equal to the special tax, but in no case shall the penalty be less than $10. In addition, if the dealer fails to pay the special tax before August 1, they will be liable to a further penalty equal to 50 per cent. of the tax due.

In brief, if the dealer desires to escape the penalties he must not only make his application for stamps during the month of June, but must pay for the same, and post the stamps prior to July 1.

When the emergency tax act was under consideration by Congress it was estimated the revenue derived from it would be $105,000,000. The revenue all told, from tobacco, spirits, and stamps on legal documents, etc., so far collected is only about $33,000,000. As to what is to be collected during the coming fiscal year on a business of six months only, the great probability is that the receipts will fall considerably below $30,000,000, which will show the estimates of the treasury officials was much too large, as the total will probably not exceed $25,000,000, against the $105,000,000 estimated.

AUTOGRAPH LETTERS OF KING FOR SALE

Remarkable Collection of Letters and Paper Written by King George III. Will Be Sold.

(By Associated Press.)

London, June 10.—A remarkable collection of autograph letters and papers, including over a hundred personal letters written by King George III, is to be placed on the auction block here next month, owing to the disposal of the Chislehurst estates of the ancient Marquis Townshend family. The old mansion of Frogmore is widely known as the residence of Thomas Townshend, who held cabinet rank at the time when England was just emerging from the Revolutionary War with the American Colonies, now the United States. Townshend was in daily touch with the king, and his correspondence is full of references to the American situation.

The letters sent to him by George III give many evidences of the strong personal character which the king took small pains to conceal. In one letter, for example, the king indicates his views as to recognizing the independence of the United States. He writes:

"Mr. Townsend may send the messenger to Paris with the draft of the Preliminary Articles and the Disputes as soon as they are ready without waiting for my seeing the latter. He cannot be surprised if my not being over anxious for the perusal of them, as Parliament, having ideas of granting separation to the North America, has disabled me from longer defending the just rights of this Kingdom. But I certainly disclaim thinking myself answerable for any evils that may arise from the adoption of this measure, as necessity, not conviction, has made me subscribe to it."

Whitewater, June 10.—Mrs. Chas. Gier of Janesville has been a guest of Mrs. John Kachel for a couple of days.

The Normal pageant was given last evening on the campus, and although cold and cloudy and the fact that it had been postponed from the night before, there was an exceedingly large crowd and the entertainment was a great success. Entertainment Before the Court—Music, Court Band Ball Dancers, Ladies in Waiting Wrestlers, Court Entertainer Dancing, Court Children Pair, Midsummer Dream of Little Boy Blue Framed by Mother Goose and her Followers Little Boy Blue Imps of Darkness Fire, Nymphs of the Forest Butterflies

Queen of the Fairies and her Followers Little Boy Blue's Dream. Imps of the Darkness trouble him as he sleeps. They are, however, soon led away by the glow and dance of the Fire Flies. The sound of fairy revelry brings forth the Nymphs of the Forest dancing in the leaves. Butterflies flutter in. The Queen of the Fairies, missing her followers, comes, with her attendants, in search of them. Spying Little Boy Blue, she charms him into dancing. The spell is soon broken, for he again falls asleep. As the revelers dance back into the forest.

The Court Adjourns. The following program will be given in Miss Christensen's room this afternoon, and repeated Friday evening, the proceeds to go into a piano fund:

Evansville News

Evansville, June 10.—A regular adjourned meeting of the common council of the city of Evansville, Rock county, Wisconsin, was called to order in the clerk's office at 7:30 by Mayor Campbell. Present aldermen, Axtell, Babcock, Pease, Shreve, Williams, Winston. The minutes of meeting of June first were read, corrected and approved.

Moved and carried that the street and alley committee cause notice to be served on all property owners on whose property noxious weeds are found, to destroy them the same at once.

The street and alley committee reported on the protest of J. Lemmel and others against oiling Garfield avenue from Second street to North Fourth street, recommended that the same be not granted.

Moved and carried that the report of the committee be adopted.

Messrs. Axtell and Winston reported on the petition of taking the necessary steps to bring the question of issuing $12,000 worth of bonds for the purpose of restoring Lake Leota, recommended that the same be granted.

Alderman Pease submitted a minority report as follows:

That the prayer of the petition be not granted for the reasons: That it is not guaranteed that $2,000 will be sufficient funds to complete the work. That the city will very soon be obliged to spend a large sum of money for repairs at the power house, $8,000; and laying water mains, about $3,000. That the restoration of the pond is not a necessity. That the bonded indebtedness is about $70,000. That the time is inopportune. That the interest of this report is not to restrain the voters from voting on the advisability of restoring the pond, but to forestall the issue of bonds until it be better known the necessary amount needed to complete the work and the finances of the city is improved.

Moved by Williams, seconded by Babcock that the majority report of the committee be adopted. Ayes—Axtell, Babcock, Williams, Winston, Pease, Shreve.

E. J. Reckord was granted permission to erect an iron covered building on the rear of his lot.

The chief of police was instructed to enforce the statute regulating automobiles within the city limits. The clerk was instructed to purchase three traffic posts at a cost of $10.50.

The sum of $500 was ordered transferred from the general fund to the contingent fund of the street and alley committee.

A bill for $27 of Gaver and Sholtz for repairing the band stand, was ordered paid.

The mayor announced the following committees for the ensuing year:

Finance committee—V. A. Axtell, F. Winston, H. Pease. License committee—J. Shreve, H. Williams, C. W. Babcock. Street and alley committee—R. Williams, C. W. Babcock, J. Shreve. Ways and means—F. Winston, H. Pease, V. A. Axtell.

Public property committee—H. Pease, V. A. Axtell, F. Winston. Fire and police committee—C. W. Babcock, R. Williams, J. Shreve. Member of the water and light commission—H. E. Pease.
